Atlanta, Georgia – May 3, 2015

Dr. Kenneth Anderson, a facial plastic surgeon who dedicated his practice exclusively to treat hair loss since 2003, was chosen as one of the top 500 doctors in the country by the RealSelf 500 Award. RealSelf is the leading online community dedicated to helping people make confident decisions in elective cosmetic procedures. More than 13,000 board certified specialists with a presence in the RealSelf community were reviewed to assess the level of commitment in providing valuable information and feedback within the community.

Statistic shows that 1 in 4 American shares their health experiences on major social media platforms. The medical professionals chosen in the 2015 RealSelf 500 Award are honored for having an outstanding record of consumer feedback, providing credible, valuable insights in response to questions related to elective plastic treatments, plastic surgery, dentistry and more.

“In 2015, these 500 doctors collectively impacted tens of millions of consumers, with nearly 30% of our total doctor content posted by this relatively small group,” said Tom Seery, RealSelf founder and CEO. “When I started RealSelf, many doctors questioned why they should ‘give away’ their expertise ‘for free’ on the web. Now, eight years later — and with over one million doctor answers on our platform — we are proud of the standard this select group has set. They're leading the way by empowering millions of consumers to gain access to the information they need to make smart and confident health and beauty decisions.”
